

A topographic map of Spain and its surrounding regions. The map uses color to represent elevation, with greens for lower altitudes and browns/tan for higher altitudes. The Iberian Peninsula is the central focus, with the Balearic Islands to the east. The map shows the Mediterranean Sea to the east and the Atlantic Ocean to the west. Neighboring countries are labeled: France to the north, Portugal to the west, Morocco to the southwest, and Algeria to the south. The Balearic Islands are visible in the Mediterranean Sea.
